

Wireless Communication System with PSD

This system enables automatic opening and closing of platform screen doors without the need for ground coils. This contributes to realizing additional construction of platform doors at low cost and in a short construction period.

NS product from here

